Executive Summary

1. Executive Summary

A clean, focused exclusives email with a strong hero concept — but the execution undersells the opportunity. The "Only at Skechers" positioning is compelling, but the product grid is small and visually unremarkable, and the secondary navigation feels like clutter that dilutes the exclusive angle. The email does its job but misses a chance to make the exclusives feel genuinely premium.

Solid fundamentals, weak on persuasion depth. The core message lands but doesn't inspire urgency or desire.

3. What's Working

Hero banner is clear and on-brand. "Only at Skechers" with a platform sandal image is well-framed — the exclusivity hook is immediately readable.

Promotional banner (50% OFF) at the top is prominent and adds purchase incentive above the fold.

Dual CTAs ("Shop Exclusives" / "Shop All Bos") below the product grid give users two clear paths.

Utility footer (app download, Afterpay, pickup, store finder) is well-organized and covers the major conversion assists.

"Best Selling Styles Going Fast" module adds urgency and social proof as a secondary driver.

4. What's Weak

Product grid is tiny. Only a small strip of sandal thumbnails is visible — the exclusives aren't given enough visual real estate to feel special. A flagship "exclusive" email with this few prominently sized products undersells the pitch.

"Only at Skechers" hero doesn't feature multiple styles. One image carries the entire exclusivity concept; no supporting variety or lifestyle context.

Secondary category nav (Women / Men / Kids / Clothing / New Arrivals / Sale) is boilerplate and actively works against the exclusive positioning — it makes the email feel like a standard blast dressed up with an "exclusives" label.

"Shop All Bos" CTA label appears truncated or garbled — likely should read "Shop All Bobs" or "Shop All Boots." This is a visible text issue in the render.

"Best Selling Styles Going Fast" section has no products shown — just a CTA button. An urgency module with no visual product proof is inert.

5. Recommendations

Expand the exclusives grid to 4–6 clearly labeled hero products with names and prices. Make the exclusivity tangible.

Fix the truncated CTA label ("Shop All Bos") before send — it reads as a production error and erodes confidence.

Remove or move the boilerplate category nav — it undercuts the exclusive narrative. Reserve it for general blast emails.

Add product imagery to the "Best Selling Styles Going Fast" module — even 3 thumbnails would activate the urgency claim.

Consider a subtle urgency signal on the exclusives (e.g., "Limited quantities") to reinforce the exclusivity angle beyond just the label.

6. Bottom Line

The email is functional and on-brand but punches below its weight for an exclusives send. The hero framing is right; the supporting content doesn't follow through. Fix the truncated CTA, expand the product showcase, and cut the generic nav — this email could be a strong performer with those three changes.

7. Evidence

| Module | Observation |

|---|---|

| Overall purpose | Promote Skechers-exclusive styles, anchored by a 50% off offer |

| Hero / primary value prop | "Only at Skechers" with single platform sandal image; clear but visually thin |

| Membership / benefits | None present |

| Product discoverability | Small horizontal strip of 5–6 sandal thumbnails; low impact for an exclusives email |

| Utility / secondary modules | Category nav, "Best Selling Styles" module, app download, Afterpay, BOPIS, store finder — all present and functional |

| Bugs / friction | "Shop All Bos" CTA text appears cut off; "Best Selling Styles Going Fast" module shows no product images, only a button |

Technical Audit — MKG_US_NA_W_MULTI_GENDER_EN_03282026_B (V3)

*From: SKECHERS

*Subject: [Test]: MKG_US_NA_W_MULTI_GENDER_EN_03282026_B — Skechers Exclusives: The Shoes You Can't Get Anywhere Else

1. Technical Summary

The email has one production-blocking issue (live [Test]: subject prefix) and a systemic HTTP/non-HTTPS image problem affecting 16 assets across the primary image CDN and a third-party tracking domain. A ReturnPath inbox-monitoring pixel also has a malformed URL with no scheme.

2. Link & Tracking Issues

| Severity | Issue | Evidence |

|---|---|---|

| CRITICAL | [Test]: prefix present in subject line — must be stripped before production send | Subject: [Test]: MKG_US_NA_W_MULTI_GENDER_EN_03282026_B… |

| HIGH | ReturnPath pixel URL is missing the http:// or https:// scheme — will resolve as a relative path and fail silently | src="pixel.app.returnpath.net/pixel.gif?r=964ce1dbf0dcef79cbad82c12fe25342701e4499" |

| WARN | 26 click-tracked links wrapped via click.emails.skechers.com — destination UTMs unverifiable by automated probe | QA: 26 tracking links skipped |

| INFO | Krux audience-match beacons fire with subscriber hash and raw sub ID in query string | partner_uid=28374a795c423f502bec51b57d22d407e05bd07626e78a6dea159c79ae67f16a and partner_uid=2396422 |

3. Rendering & Accessibility

*HTTP (non-HTTPS) image sources — 16 images affected:

Modern clients (Gmail, iOS Mail, Outlook.com) block mixed-content; these images will silently fail to render.

Third-party tracking pixel: http://www.ink1000.com/p/up/7076d8b15a776085/o.gif?mi_u=9015215849&mi;_ecmp=MKG_US_NA_W_MULTI_GENDER_EN_03282026_B

Primary image CDN (15 assets): all sourced from http://image.emails.skechers.com/lib/fe3115707564047a731c78/… — includes logo (dde00662…png), footer icons (App Store, Google Play, AfterPay, Instagram, Twitter, Facebook, Pinterest, YouTube), and at least 3 unnamed content images

*Missing alt text — 4 images:

| Image | URL |

|---|---|

| o.gif (ink1000 pixel) | http://www.ink1000.com/…/o.gif |

| 49468f73-4651-4af3-bea2-61d1ae5db486.png | http://image.emails.skechers.com/…/m/11/49468f73… |

| 00100b23-0afa-4715-a8cd-23bb46f9d2b2.png | http://image.emails.skechers.com/…/m/11/00100b23… |

| fc08601a-fcce-4c96-8b90-39e5a55d6c05.png | http://image.emails.skechers.com/…/m/11/fc08601a… |

Tracking/spacer pixels intentionally have empty alt="" — those are fine. The three unnamed content PNGs above are not decorated and will render as broken icons with no fallback text in image-off environments.

*Other rendering notes:

is missing the http-equiv attribute — should be . Functionally low-risk in modern clients but technically malformed.

likewise missing http-equiv="X-UA-Compatible".

Fixed 640px table width with no outer wrapper — on very narrow viewports below 375px the layout may overflow before media queries engage.

4. Personalization & Merge Tokens

No unresolved merge tokens (e.g., %%, {{, [FIRST_NAME]) detected in the visible HTML. Subscriber ID is embedded in the ink1000 pixel (mi_u=9015215849) and Krux subid beacon — these appear correctly resolved.

5. Compliance

| Item | Status |

|---|---|

| SPF/DKIM | Unknown — Authentication-Results header not captured via AgentMail relay; cannot confirm authentication passed |

| Unsubscribe | Not verifiable from truncated source — must confirm footer contains functional one-click unsubscribe and List-Unsubscribe header |

| Physical address | Not verifiable from truncated source — CAN-SPAM requires postal address in footer |

| From domain alignment | no-reply@emails.skechers.com sending subdomain; DMARC alignment requires SPF or DKIM pass on emails.skechers.com |

The missing authentication header is the only confirmed deliverability risk; the rest require footer confirmation.

6. Email-to-Site Continuity

All 26 destination links are wrapped through click.emails.skechers.com redirects, so UTM passthrough cannot be directly verified. The campaign identifier MKG_US_NA_W_MULTI_GENDER_EN_03282026_B appears consistently across:

Krux impression beacon (campaignid=)

ink1000 pixel (mi_ecmp=)

Subject line prefix

This alignment is correct. No naked (unwrapped) destination URLs were found in the visible HTML excerpt, so no untracked links detected.

--

7. Recommendations

[BLOCKER] Remove [Test]: prefix from subject line before any production send.

[HIGH] Upgrade all http://image.emails.skechers.com/… src attributes to https:// — this is a systemic template-level fix affecting at least 15 assets including the logo and all footer icons.

[HIGH] Fix or remove the ink1000 pixel HTTP source (http://www.ink1000.com/…); if this is a deliverability/attribution pixel, move it to HTTPS.

[HIGH] Fix ReturnPath pixel — prepend https:// to pixel.app.returnpath.net/pixel.gif?r=… so inbox monitoring fires correctly.

[MEDIUM] Add descriptive alt text to the three unnamed content images (49468f73, 00100b23, fc08601a). At minimum, add alt="" if they are purely decorative.

[MEDIUM] Confirm SPF/DKIM authentication is passing on the emails.skechers.com subdomain before production send; verify List-Unsubscribe header is present.

[LOW] Add http-equiv attributes to the tags for spec-correct HTML.
